A demonstration of the beamerswitch class

Testing features

Alex Ball[1]

[1]University of Life

1 September 2016

Beamer modes

- beamer: regular slides
- trans: slides suitable for printing on transparencies
- handout: slides suitable for printing on paper
- article: transcript, paper, notes or other article-style document based on the slides

---

Features shown in this example

- Different class options are passed to the beamer and article classes.
- The 'trans' and 'handout' versions do not have the intermediate slides used by the 'beamer' version for uncovering content.
- The handout has three slides to a page with room for handwritten notes at the side, and is in black and white.

See the source code of this example to see how it was done.